DBF 24-25

Register with AIAA

Travel Plan: Wednesday the 9th

5:15 ET: Meet in the workshop

5:30 ET: Leave for SBN

6:03 ET: Train leaves the station

6:52 CT: Train arrives at Millenium Station

10 minute walk: Arrive at Washington L stop

41 minute train to O'Hare add 10 minutes to account for public transit in America

7:53 CT: Arrive at O'Hare

Travel Plan: Wednesday the 9th

7:53 CT at airport

Flight departs at 9:45 CT so we have plenty of time to navigate the airport

- If anyone is of mind to complain about the wake up time the next SSL train is an hour and a half later which is way too late

Land at 11:40 am in Tucson (note: Tucson is on Mountain Standard time NOT Mountain Daylight time so it is three hours, not two, behind South Bend)

Our check in time isn't until 3pm so we will have 1-2 hours to kill before we are able to check in. We can go to the zoo or something I don't know

Wednesday the 9th

Once we check into the Airbnb we will go get the plane from FedEx and assess the damage

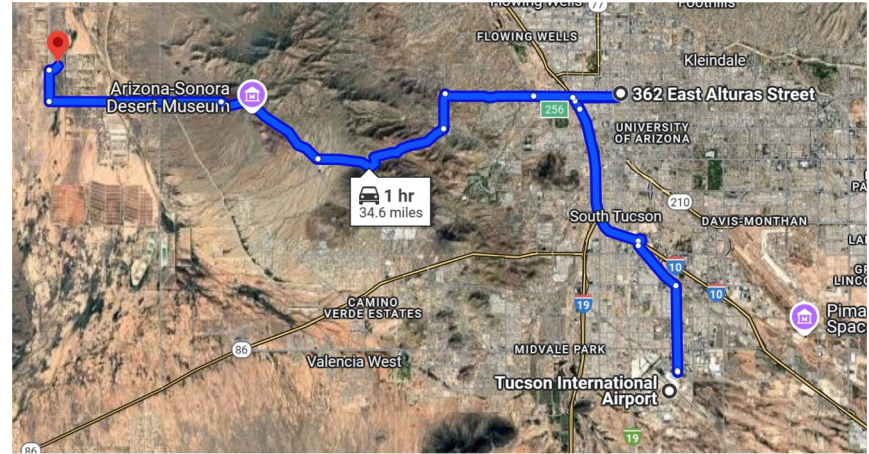

It is always a little bit broken but oh well

Tucson Overview

Some points of interest to help you get the lay of the land on the right

Airbnb is about 40 minutes from the competition site and we have to pass by saguaro national park to get there

Airport is on south side of the city

Tucson Overview

We will see daily highs over 90 degrees and lows in the 60s

A couple of clouds during the weekend but mostly sunny the whole time

Winds around 10 mph

UV index will be high, humidity low, and at altitude

SUNSCREEN AND HYDRATION

Should be a lovely break from South Bend's mood swings but dehydration is no joke

Thursday

We will be allowed in at 10:00 am

We want to be lining up to get in around 8:30 to 9:00

Only needs to be a small group and should be much warmer than last year

Tech inspection opens at noon and ground mission at 2

Don't know how important these times are to us until we get the flight line order

Tech closes and GM closes at 6

Friday

Gates open at 7 with Pilot Briefing at 8 Flight line opens after

At 5 DBF social starts at the airfield, I think there is free food with it but I'm not certain

Flight line closes at 6

Social ends at 7

Saturday

Saturday has the same schedule as Friday just without the social

At 7 we will be hosted by Tom and Denise Mouch, our university contacts, for a barbeque

Because of this we are not allowed to crash on Saturday

Sunday

Same start time but flight line closes at 5 pm with the awards ceremony at 5:30

Have to be gone by 6

That night we need to pack up to be ready to go in the morning

Travel for Monday

Flight departs at 12:30 so we don't have a super rushed morning

Have to checkout by 11:00 am but that should be easy to do

We land at 5:59 at O'Hare

Take blue line back downtown it is in a bit of an unfortunate gap in SSL coverage so we won't be able to leave until 8:15, luckily Millenium park is lovely

Return to SBN at 11:25 ET

Food and expenses

I will at the start give everybody an envelope that you will keep receipts in

Should write on the envelope

DBF Competition 2025

First and Last Name

NDID

April 9th to 14th

Keep all receipts in envelope for food, gas, etc

If you do not have a receipt it will not be reimbursed
